Johnson Sides, the Indian peace-maker, does not seem to be long for this world. He is with his people on a hop ranch near Sacramento. He was visited there by a Bee reporter and was found hobbling feebly on a cane. He said he was troubled with asthma, and had come down from Nevada with his people in the hope that the Sacramento valley air would afford a beneficial change. The old chief has relinquished his active work as head of the Plutes to Captain Dave, who wears a silver shield proclaiming him a "United States Chief of Police." Dave is of heavy build and his hair is becoming streaked with gray. Both he and Johnson Sides have finely shaped Indian heads, and it is plainly to be seen that they have not suffered from dissipation.—Bee.

Last of the Season

Probably the last opportunity Renoites will have to visit Mohawk valley this summer by excursion trains will be Sunday a week, September 8th. On that day the Nevada State Band will come down from Carson, accompanied by a large crowd from that town. They will embark on a special over the N-C-O and will spend four or five hours under the pines of Plumas, returning the same day. Traffic Manager Crawley has made a rate of $1 for the round trip from this point and there will doubtless be a large crowd from this city in attendance. The event promises to be a very pleasant one. The delegates from the two cities will fraternize and all will listen to the band play.

Likes the East

B. C. Leadbetter yesterday received a letter from his son, Percy, who recently went to Buffalo, New York, to accept a position of trust. Percy had never been east before and naturally he has been enjoying every second of the time he could spare from his duties. Art Kiddle is at present paying him a visit.

The ladies of Reno feel hurt that there has been no announcement of their participation in the banquet. As a matter of fact they are expected to be the principal people in the banquet arrangements. It couldn't be a success without them. More will be said later along this line.

SAN FRANCISCANS MARRY

W. N. McKay and Miss Alice Smith Wedded Last Evening

W. N. McKay and Miss Alice Smith, both of San Francisco, were married last evening by the Rev. Mr. Driver at the residence of Mrs. J. E. McKinnon, 111 West street. Mr. McKay is the junior partner of the firm of John Dickie, shipbuilders, of San Francisco; the bride being a niece of Mr. McKinnon.

Mr. McKay is very much impressed with Reno, and thinks there is a great future for this city. He claims there is not a town between Ogden and San Francisco where there is as much building going on as in this place.

Compliment From Haley

BRAKEMAN HURT BY JUMPING

B. E. Wilson, head brakeman on train 206, met with serious injuries late last night caused by jumping from his train. It occurred near the gravel pit. Mr. Wilson feared that his train would collide with a work train and took the leap. He was badly skinned up, one arm dislocated and he sustained internal injuries. Dr. Thomas dressed his wounds and the injured man was taken on No. 3 to his home in Truckee.

Open Air Service

The repair work at the Baptist church is not progressing as rapidly as had been expected and therefore the church services will not be held in the church next Sunday as announced.

Next Sunday's services will be held in Harmony hall in the morning and the evening service will be held in the Riverside park as they have been the last two Sunday evenings.

A Short Encounter

Last night a fight was pulled off in this city between a San Francisco scrapper and a talented boy from Denver. The bout took place in a stable not many rods from Plaza street. The police were not invited and neither were newspaper men. The boxers only stayed for three rounds. The attendance was small and very little money changed hands.

A Small Blaze

Box 5 is still doing duty at the same old place. The last four alarms have all been rung in from this box. It was pulled yesterday for a small blaze in the new Golden building. A few buckets of water did the work and the department did not turn on a stream.

Burial of a Child

The funeral of the infant son of Paul, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Snyder, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 500 South Virginia street. Rev. Father Reynolds officiated. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Getting Late

If you desire to visit Lake Tahoe this season the best time for your trip is now. Ere long the chill of autumn will be blowing and the trip will be less pleasant than at present. The Southern Pacific company is selling cheap excursion tickets good from Friday till Tuesday.

THE GIRLS LEFT WILL Avenge HIS DEATH

Tomorrow the Eagle band leaves on its annual outing. The boys have engaged Hurd's hall in Truckee and will give a concert Saturday evening. It will be a musical treat that the people in the neighboring town will not soon forget. There will undoubtedly be a crowd, for Editor Haley has taken the affair under his wing and is backing the concert for all he is worth. The next morning the band will go to Tahoe and circumnavigate the lake. They will probably give a concert on the boat.

The New Promoter

L. P. Malotte has accepted the position of promoter of Bowers mansion and in the future will attend to all details as regards picnics and excursions there. Mr. Malotte is a gifted boomer and will certainly increase the attendance at that popular resort.

WILL Avenge HIS DEATH

Special to The Journal] WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—As a result of the murder of the United States Vice Consul at Beyrout, orders were sent Admiral Cotton at Nice, tonight to hurry to the nearest port, investigate and report. Minister Leishman at Constantinople also cabled demanding punishment of the murderers and full reparation for the crime. Admiral Cotton is expected to reach Beyrout in six days. San Francisco and Machias will take longer. The government is determined to push the matter relentlessly.

MULLIGAN STEW

A Bunch of Renoites Enjoy the Hospitality of Lord Kelsey

Gentle and long suffering reader, have you ever partaken of a mulligan stew? If your answer is in the negative there is positive assurance that you have never known true happiness.

Yesterday afternoon Bohemia, or something else, was turned loose and one of the pleasantest little times was had that ever happened. It all occurred in Lord Kelsey's mansion on the banks of the Truckee. The mansion is restricted in size and the event took place beneath a spreading willow. The mulligan was simply immense. There were four gallons of it and every gill thereof was nectar fit for the gods. This was natural since it was concocted by H. H. Hopping. Litchenberg was the assistant chef de cuisine and Bert Rogers officiated as bar maid.

In addition to those mentioned above, the following were present: Ole Summers, Tony Franko, Jim Carter, L. P. Malotte, A. L. Mason, Prof. Grosbeck, W. J. Rector, C. J. Blaisdell, Harry Ward, Billy Lindsay, Tom Graden, Dr. Tryon, Don Clancy, Jenks Campbell, a Journal reporter and possibly several others who were unintentionally overlooked.

The program was principally Mulligan, but it was interspersed with a few rhetorical efforts by Dr. Tryon and others and several musical selections.

Last, but not least, a half barrel of beer, had an important place on the bill of fare. The Reno Brewing company made the donation.

New York Fashions

By MAUDE GRIFFIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The most elegant of new gowns, which like the babbling brook, seem destined to flow on forever, show some novel uses for tucking and the arrangements are so charming that they will no doubt be employed for early fall gowns made of light weight fabrics.

Blue, which has enjoyed almost unprecedented favor this year is effectively combined with cream lace in a French batiste calling gown. The skirt has the habit effect at the back with a yoke outlined in deep applied tucks followed by a space of a few inches, then another group of tucks and so on. Above and below the knees ruffles of Cluny lace are arranged transversely across the skirt. The jointure is effected at the front with handsome lace beading through which narrow blue satin is run and finished with showers of ribbon forget-me-nots.

The bodice has a deep irregular yoke of cream lace with satin foundation of the same color. Below the yoke it is tucked at the back and sides while the front is arranged in a wide double box plait. The sleeve is a very graceful affair, tucked a little way below the shoulder, then finished with a full puff which is gathered into a close-fitting elbow cuff.

Though the bloused effects are not as pronounced as formerly, all the new bodices are designed to lend a fullness to the bodice above the well-defined waist line. Boleros of lace strapped with taffetta, or of the dress material, if it be light and silky, are extremely chic and rivalled only by the dainty capes of muslin and lace. The latter is most original; the top is fitted to the shoulders by gaugings and bouillonues and the fullness accruing therefrom permitted to fall to just about the bend of the elbow. Usually lace insertion is disposed at the outer edge, though this is frequently varied with accorded frills of plisse mousseline or a deep open-work hem.

An effective street costume of shot voile has a loose plaited bolero bordered at each front edge with narrow ruffles, while the bolero itself has the appearance of being appliqued below a lace collar which opens over a plaited yoke piece of novelty silk. The sleeves are designed after the prevailing draped bishop pattern with wrinkled cuffs of crepe de chine and a belt of the same material confines the waist.

The skirt is a graceful affair with shirred sections between the plaits and a joined border at the lower part. The toilette is becomingly topped with a dark satin straw, extending well over the face but puckered at the back with rosettes of shaded satin ribbon. The crown is twisted in fanciful design without the relief of so much as a wing in the matter of trimming.

Taffeta, which died a lingering enough death early in the season has been taken up again with little less than a furor. The dull effects are worn to excellent advantage by women in mourning, while the glaze taffetas are developed into the sweetest of shoulder wraps and smartest separate skirts.

A stunning frock for the "woman in black" has a skirt goared over with fagotting down each seam in black silk. There is no suggestion of fullness over the hips and the fagotting is formed in points above a deep plaited flounce which flares quite full over the feet and extends into a strain at the back.

Down the front of the waist is gathered ruffles of dull black crepe de chine, falling over a vest of silk bands and black silk fagotting. At the midst is a girde of three bands of the silk coming to a point in the back and sloping down into nothing at the front. The sleeves are fagotted to the elbow and finished with a series of small puffs that are gathered into a wrist-band of embroidered crepe de chine piped top and bottom with taffeta.

A chic little cape accompanies the gown, and the entire costume can be duplicated in one of the lustrous silks or elegant cloths. The trimming of the wrap follows the old style in the tiny pinked ruchings that cover it. The long pointed ends are crossed in front and carried round to the back, ending at the waistline under a rosette.

A few advance models for autumn have appeared in the shops but in the majority of cases they are confined to walking and outing costumes. The military is the predominating effect for misses and slender women; natty jackets and strapped models appeal to the needs of the sisterhood with whom nature has been generous. A design that seems a compromise be-with broad straps of the material closely stitched and finished with big smoked pearl buttons.

The coat is belted at the back and sides much the same as a Norfolk Jacket would be, but the front is plaited and slightly curved to the figure like a blouse. With every season Dame Fashion grows more aesthetic and from the outing suit to the negligee in the styles to come all effects that render uncertain the contour will be eliminated.

The coat in question is cut low at the neck in V shape and finished with stitched bands of the same cloth. Smaller buttons than those used on the skirt adorn either side of the front and the shoulder straps show the same trimming.

Many cute little school dresses are shown for children; some are elderly in their severe stitchings, but there are few that are not designed for comfort rather than for fashionable effect.

An old-rose voile trimmed with cream lace is pretty and may serve for best wear. The skirt has three tucks around the bottom, three more about the hips, then three rows of shirring around the waist band. The bodice has three tucks running round the figure below the sailor collar of lace. There is also a yoke of lace and a pleasing contrast is gained for the trimming by the addition of French knots in black here. The sleeves are both tucked and shirred above the elbow, below this point they are arranged in the regulation puff gathered into a cuff of lace.

Something really serviceable is a blue tamine. The skirt has a deep hem finished with a row of blue and white silk braid. At the waist the fullness is plaited on a belt of blue silk; as the skirt fastens over the plainly tucked waist the effect simulates a semi-princess skirt. An invisible band sewn to the inside of the skirt is supplied with buttonholes which fasten over buttons on the belt of the waist.

Plaids are smart, coming in combinations of russet red, bronze and tan with grey, blue, dull green and flecks of white. The predominant color is reproduced in silk or highly finished cloth for stitched bands and other trimmings.

White will be fashionable for children's dresses throughout the fall and winter. Serge, brillantime, albatross and voile are the best materials to use for school dresses because they can be cleaned with little trouble. The mother who would be prepared for an emergency would do well to keep in a convenient place, but out of reach a little oxalic acid, chlorinated soda or lemon and salt for the day that her little daughter comes home well smeared with ink or fruit stains.

White silk braid is the only trimming permissible on white dresses for children. The blouse and sailor designs are dictated by common sense and meet the requirements of Dame Fashion.

THE ROMANCE OF A COLUMBIA PROFESSOR

Professor B. Woodward Marries
Miss Gladys Van Buren Piver, the Gifted Singer from State of California

Special to The Journal]

PARIS, Aug. 27.—A romantic courtship reached the final stage today, when Professor Benjamin D. Woodward of the Columbia University, New York, took for his bride Miss Gladys Van Buren Piver, the California singer. Mr. Woodward first heard Miss Piver sing when, as a child, she was a member of a church choir many years ago. Then he saw no more of the singer.

Professor Woodward was sent by the United States Government to the Paris Exposition for special duty and has since lived in the French capital. Six months ago his path and that of the one-time child-singer crossed. The two fell in love and their engagement speedily followed.

Today's wedding was witnessed by a large part of the American colony here. John Munroe and Secretary Vignard were the formal witnesses. Professor Woodward and his bride will return to America next month.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered. Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziehl, pioneer druggist, 502 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered. Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant. R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quarter master's Department, San Francisco. John A. Phelps of the Hotel Kepeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc. The kidneys are the system that strains the poisonous out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Bright's Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it. It has reached the serious stage. # PICNIC NEXT SUNDAY

The Outing at Bowers' Mansion Promises to be One of the Largest Picnics of the Season ---A Good Program

There is going to be a happy bunch of people out at Bowers mansion next Sunday. The leading people of the state will be there, besides all the good people of this county and they are going to do--well they are going to have the swellest time in the history of the state.

Governor Sparks is going and so is Senator Newlands. Mayor Turrittin will be there and so will Hon. P. L. Flanigan, and on one of the back cars will be found Nate Roff, J. A. Donovan and a host of other well known men that will lend their aid towards making this meeting one of the pleasantest on record.

By the way, we may here state that this is to be a picnic given by the Hibernians. Little more is necessary. You know what they are and how they do business. Get down to the depot Sunday morning and board the 8:35 train. Everything else is all fixed.

His Excellency Governor Sparks will be chairman of the entire business.

Senator Newlands will be the orator of the day and will speak upon "Our Government." This alone will be well worth the days outing.

Mayor Turrittin will speak and respond to the toast of "America." Nate Roff will have a very pleasing little speech on "Our State" and Senator P. L. Flanigan will entertain all with a few remarks about "Ireland and America."

James A. Donovan will follow. This brilliant young speaker will devote his time to a descriptive talk about "Ireland, Its Past and Present," and his talk on this subject will be fascinatingly entertaining to say the least.

Then there will be a complete vaudeville show running continuously at the low price of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Prof. Loisen will make his high dive from a sixty-foot tower and will turn three or four somersaults after landing in the water before coming to the surface.

A splendid orchestra will furnish music for dancing and the numerous booths for the accommodation of the people will be presided over by competent people who will exert every endeavor to make the day as pleasant as possible.

The swimming ponds were never in better condition than at present and there will be a number of events in an aquatic line that will prove of interest.

Remember the Hibernians' picnic at Bowers mansion next Sunday and that the train leaves Reno at 8:35. Get down there and join the happiest bunch you ever saw. Back home at 7:10.

Card From Officer Ferrel

Noticing the item in The Journal regarding a palpable oversight, I wish to explain that it was in no way an oversight of mine, but simply a political enmity of Chief Leeper, who has been sore at me and as soon as I left on the train to go on the chase after the convicts and left Silver Upson to attend my duties, he sent his two officers, Tatum and Berry, to attend to the work at the fire house, and they informed Mr. Upson of this fact. The city council did not take action that night and not for days after, and then through Chief Leeper's request and explaining that his men could do that work. Neither the city council nor Chief Leeper has ever at any time notified me that my services were not needed at the fire house. If I had been neglecting my work in any way and had gone away without placing a man in my place, I would never had said a word, but as it is, it is nothing more than a way to get even for a fancied grievance.

Respectfully,
C. P. FERREL.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of A Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well-known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist.

Hot noon lunches at J. J. Becker's. Not Over Wise.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by a man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist.

Boy Cured of Colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.--F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. Mr. Wilkins is bookkeeper for the Shell Lake Lumber Co. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight wit han abscess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of Du Pont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It cures all coughs, colds, and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by S. J. Hodgkinson, Drug Store. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. Its the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality, when Burns, Sores, Ulcers and Piles threaten. Only 25c at S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist.

Sanders, Oakes Co. are agents for the celebrated Weber wagons and buggies. No better made. King of all.

Hot noon lunches at J. J. Becker's.

Our Prescription Department

IN prescription work we consistently adhere to the principle that only the purest and best drugs and medicines should be used. We never depart from that standard. But on the other points about the prescription department we often change. We are constantly seeking to improve the arrangement of shelves, closets and drawers so as to dispense medicines more quickly. We have to do this to accommodate our growing business.

There's no telling when you'll need prompt, reliable prescription service. Bear us in mind.

THE GREAT CITY

The Journal's San Francisco Correspondent Finds Interesting Things to Write About--Guess Who Lost Her Diamond Rings

I feel as if I might move to Boston now, and hold my own with the elect. I've been to a symphony. Of course I did not properly understand or appreciate the fantasies and movements and opuses, as conducted by Fritz Scheel (you must pronounce him to rhyme with 'mail'), but I felt that it was all educative, and that is the main thing, you know.

It was a festival of sounds, those seventy-five musical instruments, all tuned and timed as if by one hand. And San Francisco is getting to be so cultured as to (at last) turn out a fine audience for a symphony. Herr Scheel said he would prime them up to it, and he has done it.

It's nice to be able to learn, next best thing to being born clever. Out west we are not above being taught, and this gifted musician to the Austrian Emperor can teach us. Individually I've learned something about landladies since I've been here. I'm in line to progress, too, you see. I've always looked upon the genus lodging-house keeper as a holy terror with suspicious eye and brazen mien—a person who hates children and expects you to steal her keys.

And here's me with one who does not look upon you as a criminal if you have children to bring to her house. Of her own free will says she to me, "It's hard for you to be going out for meals so many times a day. I'll get you a little gas plate and some dishes, and you can get your breakfasts and lunches in your room, if you like."

I was surprised dumb, and felt myself growing as hot over the ears as if I had stolen something of hers.

I think she must have concluded that I was lazy, and did not want to cook (guilty, your honor, differing from Tom Hymers and Shorty) for she appeared at my door next morning with steaming coffee and a plate of toast. Wonders will never cease.

Yesterday I met a Virginia City school ma'am who is poorer and wiser than when she came down. This pedagogue lady possesses several valuable diamond rings, and fearing lest they might be snatched from off her hands, she didn't exactly wear them on her toes, but she put them in her stocking. It's hard to believe that a pattern to the young could have had a hole in her stocking, but such was the sad state of affairs, and, sadder still, the valuable little package worked out of that hole, and was not missed till the owner reached home.

An ad in the daily papers described the missing jewelry, and offered a liberal reward.

Strange to say, the finder appeared, charged $20, and yielded up the stocking's treasure.

Her name is that of a tree—guess it, if you can.

The apartment house has come to San Francisco to stay and has brought all its relatives. One is going up on nearly every block in the 'close in' residence part of town.

Housekeeping seems almost alluring, quite tempting, in one of these suites of three or four cozy rooms with private hall and bath.

No dirt, no trash, the ash man carries away the peelings and the scraps, the bottles and the bags twice a day.

No wood, no coal, no ashes, for the dearest little gas range ornaments the corner of each tiny kitchen. The old lady from the backwoods of Illinois said to her daughter:

"Why, Mary, it seems almost a sin to do your work so easy."

Hot water and electric light are furnished with the rooms.

The rents are high, and going higher, but it seems to me that all the things one likes in this world come high. Only the things you don't want are cheap.

The most unique experience I've had in dining came quite reasonable, and took place at "Pop" Guillet's. "Pop" has kept a confectionery here since '69, and only lately decided to serve dinner to his patrons. "It is necessary that Henri make dinner for me—why not for the autres," he reasoned.

When his tables are full, you couldn't dine with "Pop" for love or money.

"Tis no chop house. You go on ze chop house. I serve no more."

If any one complains, or becomes imperative, he can't eat at "Pop's" house.

We ate in a little kitchen-like room that was a regular curiosity shop.

parrot screeched lustily for "Papa," while a sociable Tom cat friended up with you under the table.

"Pop" himself waits upon table.

When you are all seated, you wait till the quaint little clock strikes six—no matter how early you come, you wait till exactly six—then "Pop" comes around with a big earthen pot of soup and a ladle. He says, "Veuillez-vous de soup?" and you must hold up your soup plate, in a meek manner, to be filled. If he spills a few drops down your back you must say it doesn't matter in the least.

When he takes away the soup plates, half singing and half scolding, as he does it.

He brings in more pots of meat and vegetables, and puts them in the middle of the table on electric plates to keep them hot, and everybody helps himself.

You get an excellent dinner, and all the experience for thirty cents on week days and forty cents on Sundays, and no charge for the fun of it all.

The delicious ice cream and big dish of fine fancy cakes will bring you again, I venture to say, if the informality of it all doesn't appeal to you.

A little lady told me that she takes dinner at "Pop's" during the summer instead of going camping.

Roman Catholic Church Is Backing an Enterprise in Indiana--The Friars Are Those Recently Expelled from France

Special to The Journal.]
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 27.—It is learned on good authority that the large tracts of land recently purchased by the University of Notre Dame will be converted into vineyards for the production of grapes to be used in making fine wines. More than usual interest is manifested in the announcement owing to the general belief that the Roman Catholic Church at large is backing the enterprise, which will be supervised by friars recently expelled from France. The plan is believed to be a method of retaliating against the French Government for its attitude toward the church. The friars are members of the brotherhoods, which were the producers of the choicest wines, and are considered the most expert men in the world in the cultivation of vineyards and the making of wine. It is said that the University is preparing to spend $1,000,000 in the establishment of the vineyards.

Meeting of War Workers
[Special to The Journal]
MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, Md., Aug. 27.—Gray haired men and women whose names are now mostly unfamiliar to the public, but whose work of peace during the war times of thirty odd years ago gave them a place on the scroll of fame are gathered at this resort to a total of several score. They are the survivors of the sanitary commission, the army chaplains, north and south, Red Cross and other benevolent organizations that became prominent during the civil war. The occasion of the present gathering is the thirteenth reunion of their joint organization known as "The Good Samaritans" of the United States Christian Commission. The president of the association is Bishop Fallows of Chicago, who holds the title of brevet brigadier general, conferred by Abraham Lincoln. Bishop McCabe of Evanston, Ill. is another prominent participant of the reunion. Today's proceedings were confined to welcoming the members and to an informal campfire meeting at which stories of war times were told again and reminiscences of the stirring days exchanged. The reunion will continue through Sunday.

Will Extend Mission Work
[Special to The Journal]
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 27.—A conference of officers and leaders of the American Baptist Home Missionary Society in the west and northwest was commenced in Chicago today and the proceedings will be followed with close interest by members of the denomination everywhere. The primary purpose of the conference is to settle upon plans for carrying out the wide extension of the society's work as already decided. The society plans to spend five years of special evangelistic effort at a cost of at least $25,000 a year, and to reach all the places of the country where it is thought that Baptist influence will avail. The beginning will be made in the cities, but by the commencement of the second year it is hoped to reach the smaller towns, which is the particular aim of the movement. The movement will be inaugurated and active work got under way as soon as a sufficient sum has been pledged to justify a beginning.

Exhibition at Sherbrooke

In the number and variety of exhibits the exhibition compares favorably with the most notable affairs of the kind previously held in the province. The exhibition continues ten days and from all indications the attendance of visitors will be unusually large.

The action is brought to recover a decree of this court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant and allowing plaintiff to resume her maiden name of Hannah Marian Cooper, on the ground that you, defendant, have treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner on the 20th day of January, 1903, at Reno, Nevada, in that you demanded that she make of herself a prostitute for the purpose of supporting herself and you. Special to The Journal
DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 27.—The People's party state convention assembled today in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and was called to order by State Chairman J. R. Newman of Albia. Though the party is numerically weak in Iowa at the present time the leaders have hopes of infusing new vigor into their movements by going it alone and keeping clear of entangling alliances with other parties. A full state ticket is to be named for the offices to be filled at the next election. The names of General James B. Weaver, former Congressman, Walt Butler and Judge S. R. Davis are heard in connection with the gubernatorial nomination.

One Thousand at Family Reunion
Special to The Journal
DUBLIN, Ind., Aug. 27.—Probably the largest family reunion ever held in Indiana was that of the Huddleston family, which met today for the first time near Centerville. More than 1000 members of the family by descent or marriage were in attendance. Members of the family claim that they are descendants of the Huguenots and that their relationship extends into almost every state in the Union.
